Conference Equips Women to Recognize, Embrace The 'XX Factor'

WEST PALM BEACH, FLA. — A bank president, a cybersecurity expert, a philanthropist and a teen activist will share their knowledge as women in leadership during EmpowHER of the Palm Beaches' annual Women's Empowerment Conference on Saturday, May 4, at the Hilton West Palm Beach. In addition, more than 25 session panelists will speak during the day-long conference, now in its third year.

This year's theme is The XX Factor: eXcelling and eXpanding our impact and influence. General session speakers are:

- Teri Williams, president of OneUnited Bank, the largest Black-owned bank in the country
- Dr. Chanel Suggs, Duchess of Cybersecurity®, founder/CEO of Wyvern Security
- Gloria Johnson-Cusack, a recognized voice in the philanthropic sector and a Columbia University professor
- Chanice Lee, creator and editor-in-chief of "The Melanin Diary," the top online global platform for social justice, history, politics and more, written entirely from a Black teen's perspective

Multimedia radio personality MoShay LaRen of Alpha Media's WMBX-FM X102.3 will emcee. Attendees also will hear from leading experts in the areas of leadership, economic, political/legal, branding and educational empowerment.
